Directions to St Madoc CYC

St Madoc is about a half hour drive from Junction 47 of the M4. The suggested route below is the simplest, but not the most scenic.

- Take M4 Junction 47 - head toward Swansea
- At the next roundabout take the right exit signed the Gower A484.
- At the next roundabout continue straight – still the A484
- At the next roundabout turn first left onto the B4296 - you will pass a Harvester restaurant. Here the road goes under the low railway bridge. (11ft.)
- As soon as you go under the bridge, get into right lane and turn right at the traffic lights on to the (B4295).
- Keep going on this road for several miles. Pass through the village of Penclawdd.
- Eventually you will pass an Esso garage on your left in the village of Llanrhidian.

Drive past the School on your right and the Greyhound pub on the left. Just past the pub take the right turning. This road is a little narrow!

- After a few minutes you will arrive in the village of Llanmadoc. Pass The Britannia Inn on your right and drive up the hill passing the red telephone box on your left. You will see a prominent white Swiss style house in front of you.

Take the road that runs between this house and the ancient village Church building. Do not turn right and go down the hill to Cwm Ivy.

- Half a mile on and you will see an entrance to Whitford Bay Caravan Park on the right hand side. St Madoc CYC is just to the right of their entrance.
