To: Chairs of Public Service Boards

11 December 2018

Dear Chair,

I have previously written to you about the work of the National Assets Working Group (NAWG). As you are aware, it was established with the objective to identify, enable and promote the savings and service delivery benefits that can be derived from the public sector estate through proactive, collaborative strategic asset management.

I recently announced that the work of NAWG will now go forward under the new name 'Ystadau Cymru' with the associated strapline "working together to make best use of the public estate".

The ongoing challenging financial climate for public services in Wales, as a result of the UK Government's policy of austerity, means we must innovate and work together to tackle the current financial pressures; in order to deliver excellent public services whilst achieving value for money from all available resources.

The Ystadau Cymru Board has been working hard this year to increase the visibility of the collaborative asset management agenda across the Welsh public sector. The Board has also been reviewing how the Wellbeing of Future Generations Act affects our approach to assets and asset management in general as we move forward.

To help improve the visibility around this important agenda 6 regional sub-groups have been established and I wanted to make sure you were aware of them. I have asked these regional sub-groups to work closely with the Public Service Boards (PSBs) to link with, and support, any work you might be undertaking around assets in your area. The work of the Ystadau Cymru sub group in your area would hopefully also be of wider benefit in supporting the identification of opportunities for the public sector throughout Wales to make better use of its assets.

Her Majesty's Prison and Probation Service (HMPPS) in Wales Partnership Report

Gci h 'K U'Yg

December 2018

1.0 Introduction

Her Majesty's Prison and Probation Service (HMPPS) in Wales is committed to working together with partners and key stakeholders to reduce crime and reoffending and to support strategies and interventions aimed at addressing the social barriers that often face the offender population and their families.

The Wellbeing of Future Generations (Wales) Act (2015) has challenged us all to think about the long term impact of the decisions we make on the wellbeing of future generations and to take a more joined-up and collaborative approach to preventing problems. The National Probation Service is an invited member of Public Service Boards (PSBs) which are required under this legislation, to undertake an assessment of local cultural, economic, environmental and social wellbeing and set objectives to inform how PSBs plan and prioritise their activity aimed at maximising contribution to 7 national Wellbeing Goals. For PSBs to be able to take a holistic approach to assessing, prioritising and planning activity to improve local wellbeing, there must also be an understanding of how the management of offenders can help to contribute to the wellbeing of those who might otherwise become victims, the wellbeing of the community, and that of the offender and their family.

Communities cannot flourish if they do not feel safe. The Framework to Support Positive Change for those at Risk of Offending in Wales (2018-2023) recognises that in order to be successful in tackling crime and making our communities safer, criminal justice agencies need to work closely with wider partners in order to most effectively tackle the causes of offending (which are often linked to factors such as poor mental health, substance misuse, lack of education/training/employability skills, adverse childhood experiences) and to enable offenders to successfully turn their lives around. For this to be effective, the component services need to be well defined and understood by core delivery partners. This includes partners having an understanding of the profile of the offender population locally, and having better access to information on local criminal justice/offender management initiatives and projects, providing an opportunity to help shape and inform these initiatives where there is a shared agenda.

It is hoped that the sharing of offender cohort information for this purpose will help in breaking down inter-agency silos, informing strategic planning and priority setting particularly in respect of the assessment, planning and prioritising of wellbeing relating to community safety, and maximise opportunities for joint service design and co-commissioning and ensuring that public funds are used in the most efficient and cost effective way.

1.1 Purpose

The purpose of this report is to provide Public Services Boards, local criminal justice and integrated offender management boards across Wales with key offender profile information that may be of in informing joined-up service delivery and priority setting across Wales.

The geographical scope of this report is based upon the specified Probation Local Delivery Unit (LDU) and the data has been disaggregated by Local Authority (LA). The Local Delivery Units are as follows:

- North Wales (Ynys Mon, Gwynedd, Conwy, Denbighshire, Flintshire, Wrexham)
- Dyfed Powys (Ceredigion, Pembrokeshire, Carmarthenshire, Powys)
- South Wales 1 (Cardiff, Vale) & South Wales 2 (Swansea, Neath Port Talbot, Bridgend, RCT, Merthyr Tydfil)
- Gwent (Caerphilly, Blaenau Gwent, Torfaen, Monmouthshire, Newport)

The structure and content of the report will continue to be reviewed and refined over time to ensure that it continues to be a useful tool for partners.

1.2 Terms of Use

This report will be produced on a quarterly basis. The report is based on data derived from the National Probation Case Management System (NDelius) on a quarterly basis, and as such has not been formally verified. The report is intended to inform partnership discussions and should not be shared wider or re-published without prior permissions from HMPPS in Wales. The Memorandum of Understanding which accompanies this report sets out further detail on its terms of use.

2.0 HMPPS in Wales

HMPPS in Wales is responsible for the National Probation Service and Public Sector Prisons in Wales and has contract management responsibility for the Wales Community Rehabilitation Company (CRC) and HMP Parc (which is run by G4S).

The National Probation Service is primarily responsible for managing offenders who have been assessed as presenting a high or very high risk of harm. Specific responsibilities include:

- preparing pre-sentence reports for courts, to help them select the most appropriate sentence
- managing approved premises for offenders with a residence requirement on their sentence
- assessing offenders in prison to prepare them for release on licence to the community, when they will come under our supervision
- helping all offenders serving sentences in the community to meet the requirements ordered by the courts
- communicating with and prioritising the wellbeing of victims of serious sexual and violent offences, when the offender has received a prison sentence of 12 months or more, or is detained as a mental health patients

The NPS works in close partnership with the Wales CRC, which is responsible for managing offenders who have been assessed as presenting a low or medium risk of harm who have either been sentenced by the courts to a community or suspended sentence order, or released on licence from prison to serve the rest of their sentence in the community, as well as supporting offenders who are sentenced to less than 12 months in prison through the gate. The NPS also works closely with Prisons, Courts, Police and other partners to help protect the public and tackle the causes of offending.

3.0 Framework to Support Positive Change for those at Risk of Offending in Wales (2018-2023)

The Framework to Support Positive Change for those at Risk of Offending in Wales (2018-2023) has been jointly developed by Welsh Government and HM Prison and Probation Service in Wales on behalf of the All Wales Criminal Justice Board. The purpose of the Framework is to improve services for those at risk of entering or those already in the criminal justice system. The Framework seeks to promote continued collaboration in order to further reduce the number of offenders entering the criminal justice system, support offenders not to re-offend and to keep communities safe.

The Framework identifies six key areas for action:

1. Reducing the number of women in the criminal justice system;
2. Challenging domestic abuse perpetrators; holding them to account for their actions;
3. Improving provision for ex-armed services personnel engaged with the criminal justice system;
4. Providing support for young adults/care leavers;
5. Supporting offenders' families following sentencing; and
6. Prioritising the needs of Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic (BAME) groups.

Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) are also identified as a theme that cuts across each of the different priority groups/areas, recognising that those at risk of entering (or already in) the criminal justice system are likely to have experienced a high prevalence of ACEs.

4.0 Local Offender Population and Needs Profile

The data presented below is based on a snapshot of the offender population managed by the National Probation Service (Wales division). Data relating to risk of harm and needs is derived from OASys (Offender Assessment System), and is based on latest available assessment.
