5 Dull o Weithio / 5 Ways of Working

The Five Ways of Working

Long-term

The importance of balancing short-term needs with the needs to safeguard the ability to also meet long-term needs

Integration

Considering how the public body's well-being objectives may impact upon each of the well-being goals, on their objectives, or on the objectives of other public bodies

Involvement

The importance of involving people with an interest in achieving the well-being goals, and ensuring that those people reflect the diversity of the area which the body serves

Collaboration

Acting in collaboration with any other person (or different parts of the body itself) that could help the body to meet its well-being objectives

Prevention

How acting to prevent problems occurring or getting worse may help public bodies meet their objectives

Future Generations framework for projects

Based on the well-being of Future Generations act

The Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act requires each public body to carry out sustainable development by setting (and publishing) well-being objectives designed to maximise contribution to achieving each of the well-being goals. Public Services Boards (PSBs) must also assess the state of well-being in its area, set local well-being objectives in its local well-being Plan, to maximise the PSBs contribution to achieving the well-being goals. It may be that the well-being objectives set out in (PSBs) local well-being plans are the same objectives that individual public bodies decide to adopt. The Guidance on the Framework explains its purpose and how it should be used.
