Q3 What involvement has taken place/will you undertake e.g. engagement/consultation/co-productive approaches? Please provide details below – either of your activities or your reasons for not undertaking involvement
Corproductive approaches with stakeholders including internal and external partners and people with lived experience of poverty will continue to shape our strategic delivery going forward. The launch of the Swansea Poverty Truth Commission in October 2022 will be one of the key mechanisms for ensuring the voice of lived experience informs and shapes our priorities and activities. Examples of current coproduction include the administration of targeted Welsh Government funding such as to tackle food poverty and food insecurity. Stakeholders inform the design of the grant administration to best meet local needs. Another example is Local Area Coordination, coordinators 'walk alongside' people to help them to achieve their personal aspirations for a good life and make good connections the support them in their journey.

Appendix B - Integrated Impact Assessment Screening Form

Q8 What is the cumulative impact of this proposal on people and/or communities when considering all the impacts identified within the screening and any other key decisions affecting similar groups/ service users made by the organisation?

There is no impact for the report itself.

Recommendations made by the committee to inform future activity may require further investigation through the IIA process which would be actioned at the appropriate time.

The implementation of the 'way forward' identified within the report and also the recommendations from the Audit Wales 'Time for Change – Poverty in Wales' Report will include coproduction, engagement and consultation as appropriate with a wide range of stakeholders including those with lived experience. A coproductive way of working will furthermore continue to inform service delivery and development through ongoing involvement mechanisms.

We recognise that current delivery and the next steps impact on people, families and communities with the aim of addressing or mitigating the impact of poverty.
