Co-production Policy

Within the council, there is a greater emphasis on co-production. We share our intention in the Corporate Plan (2023-2028) to involve more local people in council decisions that affect them, their families, and our communities. We will accomplish this by incorporating co-production behaviours and thinking into everything we do.

As a result, co-production approaches are being considered more frequently alongside other methods of consultation and involvement. Over the last 12 months Co-Production Lab Wales have been delivering a project for the Council with the to increase our knowledge of co-production and develop a co-production policy for the Council.

Alongside the development of a policy, we have established a Co-production Champions network to provide a dedicated space for peer support and learning. In addition, we have invested in staff training and are developing a co-production toolkit to help with co-production implementation.

This policy provides Council staff with the framework and the permission to incorporate co-production behaviours in the work that they do and services they deliver.

The policy draws on the good work undertaken within Social Services, specifically the West Glamorgan Regional Partnership Board Strategic Co-production Framework and the Swansea Council's Co-production for Social Care Strategy.

Q3 What involvement has taken place/will you undertake e.g. engagement/consultation/co-productive approaches?

Please provide details below – either of your activities or your reasons for not undertaking involvement

As the main audience of the Policy is Council staff, we involved a wide range of internal stakeholders to co-produce the content and feed into its development:

- Discussions with Corporate Management Team
- Corporate Services & Financial Resilience Service Transformation Committee
- Leadership team session
- Cabinet discussions
- Co-production champions

A public consultation exercise was carried out of the draft policy. The consultation ran from the 25th September until the 10th November. We used an online survey and offered a number of face-to-face and virtual opportunities to discuss the draft policy in person. The survey was widely promoted via social media and through our existing mechanisms We also help specific sessions with Council staff and the Service Transformation Committee.

How we consulted on the draft policy:

- Online Survey
- Three drop-in sessions at the Waterfront Museum
- Three teams sessions
- Consultation champions session
- Corporate Services & Financial Resilience Service Transformation Committee session

Through this consultation we received 120 views and comments on the draft policy. We had 76 responses to the survey and the others were gathered from the opportunities listed above.

The draft policy was largely positively received, and respondents were very supportive of the Council approach and commitment to take this work forward. All views received have been considered in developing the final policy and will also be used to support the development of the toolkit.

 Yes No If yes, please provide details below

Q8 What is the cumulative impact of this proposal on people and/or communities when considering all the impacts identified within the screening and any other key decisions affecting similar groups/ service users made by the organisation?

(You may need to discuss this with your Service Head or Cabinet Member to consider more widely if this proposal will affect certain groups/ communities more adversely because of other decisions the organisation is making. For example, financial impact/poverty, withdrawal of multiple services and whether this is disadvantaging the same groups, e.g., disabled people, older people, single parents (who are mainly women), etc.)

The adoption of this Corporate co-production policy aims to:

- ensure that co-production is considered alongside other methods of engagement and is applied in all areas where it can add value, across the entire scope of Swansea Council's work
- ensure that the term 'co-production' is understood consistently throughout the council
- encourage a consistent approach to co-production across council departments and when talking about co-production with other organisations and residents

- Support creating the conditions for building trusted relationships between the Council and the communities it serves, enabling co-production to eventually take place

The development of this corporate policy demonstrates our commitment to co-production. It will be accompanied by a toolkit to help us transition to this new way of working and start to embed co-production in our organisational culture. We are putting these foundations in place with the introduction of this policy to enable more Council departments and teams to begin to incorporate co-production in their work.
