whether this is disadvantaging the same groups, e.g., disabled people, older people, single parents (who are mainly women), etc.)

It is considered that there could be medium impact for the majority of the groups/characteristics set out in Q2 as all members of the population could be impacted by reduced bathing water quality and water pollution incidents. It is essential that this proactive public health work is carried out to reduce this potential negative impact. There is a relatively small percentage of the population served by private drinking water supplies and so the impact could be consider low. However, this is an essential service for those households and tourism businesses.

Outcome of Screening

Q9 Please describe the outcome of your screening using the headings below:

- Summary of impacts identified and mitigation needed (Q2)
- Summary of involvement (Q3)
- WFG considerations (Q4)
- Any risks identified (Q5)
- Cumulative impact (Q7)

The work undertaken by the Pollution Control and Private Sector Housing Team aims to mitigate potential adverse impacts on bathing water quality, water pollution incidents and adverse impacts on water quality.

The bathing water model is a long term initiative to enable accurate prediction of bathing water quality in Swansea Bay, through collaboration with NRW.

The response to water pollution incidents is an essential service for the prevention of further environmental implications such as fish health in the River Tawe and public health impacts for recreational water use.

Council officers work on a regular basis with NRW and DCWW in areas concerning water pollution and water quality. We have a collaborative approach to scope out positive responses to improve environmental issues that can arise in watercourses and drainage networks, where legal responsibilities and solutions are often shared.
